Dear Mrs Dorota,

From September 2019 parts of Australia have been experiencing unprecedented bushfire activity. Thankfully recent rain over the fire grounds has seen an easing of the conditions and the fire activity has largely been reduced.

The actions undertaken by Australian Red Cross have only been possible through the incredible support and solidarity received from the Red Cross and Red Crescent Movement. The incredible generosity, of people and corporate donors from around the world has enabled more than 2,800 Australian Red Cross people, mostly volunteers, to respond to more than 20 bushfires and support people in 110 relief and evacuation centres and recovery and information hubs.

On behalf of Australian Red Cross, we express our deepest and heartfelt gratitude to you and your National Society, and thank you for your generous contribution that has enabled Australian Red Cross to represent the collective value of Red Cross Red Crescent Movement through our humanitarian action.

We have been reassured of the immense value our global network, especially when we come together in times of adversity.

Kind regards,

Judy Slatyer
Chief Executive Officer
